

Plain, Straight Talk From Our Ready-to-Wear Section

Every honest merchant will tell you that good reliable merchandise is hard to get with prices advancing daily. We feel complimented and repaid for our hard efforts in having secured the very cream of the market, buying early and paying cash. State Fair week was the biggest "Fair Week" in the history of our business. Our loyal town patrons brought their out-of-town guests to see us, and in every case we were highly complimented on our splendid showing and prices, invariably resulting in the sale of dress, suit or coat and in some cases all three.

When we could surprisingly please and sell people from Portland, Albany, Eugene, Klamath Falls and even San Francisco, besides winning new town customers—there's a reason.

This shows one of our new Coats. It is a "Wool Velour," opossum trimmed collar; full belt, 1-2 lined sol-satin, full flared cut; absolutely correct in every detail of material, style and workmanship. To duplicate this garment in the wholesale market today would cost at least $5.00 more. Our Price

Mrs. Ella Watt, supreme instructor for the United Artisans, arrived in Salem yesterday to take charge of the drilling of a play to be given by the Juvenile Court of that lodge. The play was written especially for the lodge work by Mrs. Watt and is expected to be produced here in the near future. Mrs. Watt will be in Salem a few days before returning to her headquarters in Portland.

Those people who failed to see "Civilization" at the Grand this week not only missed a tremendous argument in behalf of peace, but they also missed a very wonderful production in the way of motion photography. With the exception of "The Battle Cry of Peace" and "The Birth of a Nation," there have been no pictures shown here which have been compared in any sense to this. It appears little short of marvelous that such a wealth of detail could be moulded into such a beautiful and harmonious whole. The only adverse comment heard here relates to the frequency and violence of the explosions interspersed for effect during the war scenes, but it is likely that these scenes would have been far less effective otherwise.

NOTABLE COMPANY OF MUSICIANS WILL COME IN LYCEUM COURSE THIS WINTER

THE L. A. C. ORCHESTRA.

The L. A. C. orchestra was organized at the Lyceum Arts conservatory, and thoroughly coached by Elias Day, the director of the school, and Max Fischel, the eminent violin teacher. From their first engagement the company has been a pronounced success. Their program is exceptionally well selected and contains sufficient variety to fulfill all requirements.

The enthusiasm of their audiences everywhere, and the press and personal comments that are given, testify to the delight with which these charming and talented young women have been received.

COMING EVENTS

Oct. 4-5-6—Marion County Institute, Salem.
Oct. 6.—City bowling league opens season.
Oct. 11.—J. T. Bank, Head Counsel, W. O. W., in the city.
Oct. 13.—Inauguration of Dr. Carl Gregg Doney as president of Willamette University.
October 16-17.—Degree of Honor convention.
October 17-20.—Baptist state convention, Salem.
November 6.—City primary election.
November 7.—Presidential election.

Beginning with this evening, the Elk lodge will resume its regular weekly meetings, after meeting monthly during the vacation period. It is expected that each and every Elk will be present on this opening of the winter season as many plans are to be discussed.

Roy Stover, who was hurt Saturday in Spaulding's sawmill by a plank falling on his foot and crushing it, is improving slowly. He is able to get about on crutches but it will be several weeks before he will be able to resume his work.

E. A. Clark, republican speaker, who was to have given an address here Saturday night, will not deliver the expected address on account of the proximity of the date to the Fairbanks election. Clark was formerly a candidate for senator on the progressive ticket.

The Salem Commercial club announces that it has been asked to find a man and woman to fill a winter's job on a stock farm. Secretary McDaniels requests that if anybody wishes to apply for this position they can do so by seeing him at his office.

It is expected that when the Grubman docks tonight at the O. C. T. company's wharf that it will bring in a load of 314 bales of hops consigned from Sayre's landing to Durbin & Conover. The shipment will probably be held in the hop warehouse for future designation.

The civic department of the Commercial club has prepared a sign ten by twenty feet urging the citizens to register for the coming election. Frank H. Southwick is director of this department and had charge of the construction of the sign. It is placed on the west side of the court house and has caused a great deal of favorable comment.

The opening of the Valley League bowling matches, which have been delayed on account of the installing of alleys at Eugene, will open on October 14 with a game at Eugene between Salem and the Rainbow team of that city. The city league opens Monday night with a contest between the Woodmen and the Elks. It is expected that the winter bowling season will prove lively and exceptionally interesting. The Valley league team and the Elks will clash tonight on the Club alleys.

G. W. Eyre, who shipped a lot of prize hogs to Portland Tuesday, reports the fact that he received 50 cents over and above the regular top-notch price for first class hogs. He is naturally jubilant over this venture as it convinced him that the prize animals are profitable. He said this afternoon that the top price was $10.25 per hundred and that his prize hogs brought $2.25 per hundred, which is convincing argument to him that farmers should pay more attention to the raising and care of top-notch goods. The hogs were prize winners at the Oregon state fair and Mr. Eyre says he paid a fancy price for them.

W. H. Prunk, of the Red Cross Pharmacy, who went to Portland Tuesday, returned to Salem yesterday afternoon. He was in the Rose City on business.

Last night the weather dropped to freezing and gave Salem its first real taste of winter. The maximum temperature was 50 degrees and the minimum 32 degrees, which shows a gradual lowering of the temperature for the week.

W. L. Staley's bluff ball team met and defeated the team commanded by O. B. Gingrich last night in the Y. M. C. A. gym. This was one of the preliminary games of the season and was played for the purpose of pre-season warming up. The real bluff ball opening will take place Friday night.

Ray Simeral filed his declaration as a candidate for alderman for the First ward with the recorder at the city hall this morning. He is asking to be elected to fill the place of J. A. Patterson, whose term expires at the first of the year. Councilman Hoover, also of the First ward, is the hold-over.

There will be a meeting of the tourist convention committee of the Salem Commercial club this evening at five o'clock in the rooms of the Commercial club. The business on hand is to consider the proposition of a first annual Salem week, during which time special endeavors will be made to arouse and enlarge civic patriotism.

Miss Alma Watt, of Portland, a nurse and an expert swimmer, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Kate Watt, at her home on Chemeketa street. It will be remembered that Miss Watt recently swam the Columbia river at The Dalles where the water is swift and dangerous, which was considered a remarkable feat.

The body of Willard Ross, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ross, of near Liberty, who died Tuesday of spinal meningitis, was buried this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The funeral services were conducted at the Rigdon & Richardson parlors by Rev. Porter and interment was in the L. O. O. F. cemetery.

"Memories" and "America, I Love You," have been the two popular songs of the summer and fall season. At the Will Music store alone over 500 copies of the first and over 300 copies of the latter have been sold within a short time, which is considered to be an exceptionally fine record for Salem. "Tip parary," of course, led everything but it has begun to be replaced by others of a more native hue.

Salem has a write-up in "The Produce News," a trade publication of Chicago and New York City, by Austin Holcomb, Pacific coast representative of the paper. The story will be in an early issue, according to advice received this morning by Ivan G. McDaniels, Commercial club secretary. The material for the article was given by the Salem club.

At the meeting of the Salem Social service center yesterday in the Commercial club rooms it was decided to hold bundle day on October 14. This will be the second annual bundle day for Salem and further information concerning the work for that day will be announced shortly. It is expected that Mayor Harley White will issue a proclamation making that day memorable.

About 50 boys from the Washington junior high school took advantage of the Y. M. C. A.'s invitation to a swim in the tank yesterday afternoon. About 35 from the Salem high school took the dip last night and thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the time. Fancy diving, and clever stunts were pulled off. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the boys of Lincoln junior high take their plunge, the Grant school boys on Friday at 4 o'clock, and on Friday evening the working boys hit the pool at 7:30 o'clock. Clint Ostrander, boys' director, has charge of this work.

Better Dentistry For Less Money

Owing to the fact that most of our people do not sufficiently understand the dangers to health of suppurating infections in the tissues about the teeth (pyorrhea) and to the false impression given the public by many of our professional men, that this is an incurable disease, to pay a fee that will justify the necessary treatment of pyorrhea to effect a cure we have decided to discontinue our pyorrhea work in the near future and return to the general practice of dentistry (filling teeth, etc.) We regret very much the necessity of this step and sincerely hope that through the campaign of education, which we are going to carry on through the press and other ways, in connection with our general practice, to take up again the cure and prevention of pyorrhea, "the greatest scourge of the human mouth, the disease that results in the loss of more than half of the permanent teeth that are lost."

We shall continue to be prepared to demonstrate that pyorrhea can absolutely be cured.

All those desiring pyorrhea treatment should report at once.

In our general practice we shall give special attention to painless extracting and painless filling of teeth by the latest approved methods. Our motto will be Better Dentistry for Less Money. Watch for announcement.

Douglas County Man Produces New Melon

At the state fair last week Fred J. Schmidt of Douglas county, had an exhibit of melons. He is crossing different varieties he has been able to produce one of the finest looking and lasting muskmelons ever grown. It is round and smooth, highly colored inside and has a delicate and pleasing flavor. Mr. Schmidt raised these melons on the Douglas county poor farm, where he has experienced a great deal in the way of producing new plant and vegetable species. He is regarded locally as a kind of a Luther Burbank on a small scale.
